Shri Manoj Kumar Rajpal

Shri Manoj Kumar Rajpal is 1993 batch officer of the Indian Railways Service of Engineers (IRSE) with over 30 years of exemplary service. Known for his hard work, sincerity, and innovative approach, he has built a rich and diverse career across field units, Zonal Headquarters, RDSO, and RITES. His professional experience spans the East Coast Belt, Gangetic Plains, Thar Desert, and Ghat Sections (SER, NWR, NER), where he has managed critical railway infrastructure including tracks, tunnels, bridges, stations, water supply systems, buildings, and track machines and also completed many construction projects covering Gauge conversion, new line, doubling, traffic facility works, ROB, RUB etc. He also has vast experience in contract management. As a GM (Project) in RITES he was associated with Railway Network connectivity works to many Thermal Power projects such as MEJA Thermal Project, Harduaganj Thermal Project, JVUNL Project (Etah), Obra Thermal Project, Panki Thermal Power Project etc, and Northern Coalfield Ltd. Projects from planning to completion stage. He was also associated with many Research works related with formation design at RDSO. He combines strong practical experience with academic depth, holding degrees from REC Calicut (B.Tech, Civil) and IIT Kanpur (M.Tech, Geotechnical Engineering). He also holds an LL.B degree from Lucknow University. During his service, he has been awarded the General Manager's Award two times.